This is the impact font. Impact is rather simple in nature, but has a tone and look that is very impactful. Now wait, don't get impact confused with anton! Although they look very similar, they are NOT the same font. Impact seems like it has many use cases because it's very simple, but it's really not too versatile at all. The only thing you can really use it for in a proper manner is titles, and even then it doesn't look professional.
